National Portrait Gallery

Visiting the 3rd Floor

A Social Story
I am going to the National Portrait Gallery soon. There are many things to see at the Gallery.
A portrait shows us what a person looked like. I may know the person in a portrait but if I don’t that is okay.
A portrait can be a painting, a sculpture, a photo, or many other things.
I may take the elevator or stairs to the 3\textsuperscript{rd} floor where I may see the Great Hall.
On the 3\textsuperscript{rd} floor there are three exhibitions. An exhibition is a group of portraits shown together.
One exhibition is called Twentieth Century Americans. In this exhibition, I may see portraits of people from the year 1900 until today.
There are four rooms for Twentieth Century Americans. I can enter each room from the Great Hall.
I may see and hear televisions.
I may go upstairs to see the exhibitions on the mezzanine. The mezzanine is like a balcony.
I may walk up stairs or take the elevator to get to the mezzanine.
I can see the whole Great Hall from the mezzanine.
I may see the Champions exhibition. There are portraits of athletes there.
I may visit the Bravo! Exhibition which includes portraits of actors and singers.
