My Trip to the Postal Museum
I am going to the Postal Museum. There are many things to see and touch here.
When I get to the museum, I will go down the escalator into a big room with a mail car, an airplane, and horses.
If I walk under the wooden bridge, I can walk through a dark forest. I might hear sounds of birds and other animals. I can touch the rocks and trees.
I can see an old mail bag and newspapers. It is OK to touch these things.
I can see a wall of newspapers and many lights. I can look at these things.
I can see a stagecoach. A stagecoach is an old car that people rode inside. It is OK to sit inside the stagecoach.
I can see many pictures, books, and other objects. Early mailmen called the Pony Express rode fast horses to deliver the mail. I can see a movie about the Pony Express.
I can see myself on a television. Where is the camera?
There are many games to play in this room. I can ask an adult to help me play.
There are many fun things to see and touch at the Postal Museum.
